OKLAHOMA HOUSE BILL 3951 & 3952

HB 3951: Puts in place a requirement for auditory screening at certain ages in Oklahoma's elementary & secondary education and sets out new best practices protocols for screening.

HB 3952: Calls for an audiologist to be added as a member of the State Department of Education's Literacy Instruction Team.

Oklahoma does not currently require children in schools to have hearing screenings.

Many children with auditory issues will experience speech and language delays, reading delays, and are at risk for dropping out of school.

Many will simply be overlooked, misdiagnosed, and left behind.
